Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit
Ben Frank Moss "Spirit States"
Erdman Hall

Ben Frank Moss is a professor of studio art at Dartmouth College. He studied at Princeton Theological Seminary and received his M.F.A. from Boston University. Moss has described his painting as "an act of faith" through which he "found a means of objectifying a personal truth, a workable way to reconnect with that great ineffable mystery beyond the human." The Seminary hopes that viewing art will be one small way to make sense of the national tragedy we have all experienced. Gallery hours are: Monday–Friday, 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.; Saturday, 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.; and Sunday, 2:30 p.m.–8:00 p.m. A gallery talk and reception will take place on Tuesday, October 2, at 4:30 p.m. in Erdman Hall.

Erdman Gallery Art Exhibit
Ben Frank Moss "Spirit States"
Erdman Hall

Ben Frank Moss is a professor of studio art at Dartmouth College. He studied at Princeton Theological Seminary and received his M.F.A. from Boston University. Moss has described his painting as "an act of faith" through which he "found a means of objectifying a personal truth, a workable way to reconnect with that great ineffable mystery beyond the human." The Seminary hopes that viewing art will be one small way to make sense of the national tragedy we have all experienced. Gallery hours are: Monday–Friday, 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.; Saturday, 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.; and Sunday, 2:30 p.m.–8:00 p.m. A gallery talk and reception will take place on Tuesday, October 2, at 4:30 p.m. in Erdman Hall.

◆ Applications Invited for Seminarians Interacting

Seminarians Interacting is an interreligious program sponsored by the National Conference for Community and Justice (formerly the National Conference for Christians and Jews), which brings together seminary students in the Northeast from diverse Christian, Jewish, and Muslim traditions for interfaith dialogue. Five students from Princeton Seminary will be selected to participate in a three-day visitation program at two seminaries in the Northeast (fall 2001), help to host a visit of other seminarians to Princeton Seminary this fall, and participate in a four-day retreat for an intense experience of worship, presentations, and small group discussions with seminarians of other religious traditions (March 3–6, 2002).

Please submit a brief statement of two or three paragraphs describing your denominational background, reasons for your interest in such an interreligious and interdenominational experience, and how you think the program would help in your own vocational plans. Send the statement to Professor

◆ Faculty Book-Signing Parties at the Theological Book Agency

The PTS faculty has been busy, as usual, and the Theological Book Agency (TBA) invites everyone to help celebrate some of the fruits of their labors. Two book-signing parties will take place in October. On Monday, October 8, from 1:30–3:00 p.m., Professor Mark Taylor will sign copies of his new book, The Executed God: The Way of the Cross in Lockdown America. Then, on Thursday, October 18, from 1:30–3:00 p.m., Professor Clifton Black will sign his new book, The Rhetoric of the Gospel: Theological Artistry in the Gospels, as well as Mark: Images of an Apostolic Interpreter, formerly published only in hardcover, but now available in paperback. Join the fun and share in both occasions!

Contact: Sarah Parker
Phone: 497-7736

◆ Fire Alarm System and Tampering

Fire alarm systems are put in place to protect you! Please do not tamper with any of the fire alarms, smoke detectors, exit lights, emergency lighting systems, or door closes. The smoke detectors are sensitive. Therefore, please do not burn incense, light candles, or smoke in your room, as just about any smoke can set them off. Open flames from candles or any other source are a fire hazard and are not permitted.

Please do not attempt to tamper with or remove smoke detectors and/or door closers. A warning will be issued the first time fire equipment is tampered with. A $50 fine will be assessed the second time it happens.

Phone: 951-9866

◆ Support Groups and Small Groups

Support groups are being offered through the Office of Student Counseling. (Groups run by the McCosh Health Center are also open to PTS students.) These support groups consist of separate groups offering support for individuals who live with a chronic illness; for women who want more control over eating habits; and for men and women focusing on self-integration and listening for God (rather than being driven by needs to please, to be needed, to be perfect, etc., which create a false self).

Following the retreat for couples on October 20, small groups will be forming for sharing and learning about marriage. Attendance at the retreat is not a prerequisite.

For more information or to register for a group, call the Chapel Office.

50 Stockton Street, Princeton

Dr. John Milbank, professor of philosophical theology at the University of Virginia, will present a public lecture at the Center of Theological Inquiry. Dr. Milbank is considered the leader of "radical orthodoxy," a movement in revolt against usual liberalism and simultaneously dedicated to meeting the challenge of postmodern and deconstructionist thinkers on their own territory. The title of the lecture is "Christ the Exception."

◆ Fire Alarm System and Tampering

Fire alarm systems are put in place to protect you! Please do not tamper with any of the fire alarms, smoke detectors, exit lights, emergency lighting systems, or door closes. The smoke detectors are sensitive. Therefore, please do not burn incense, light candles, or smoke in your room, as just about any smoke can set them off. Open flames from candles or any other source are a fire hazard and are not permitted.

Please do not attempt to tamper with or remove smoke detectors and/or door closers. A warning will be issued the first time fire equipment is tampered with. A $50 fine will be assessed the second time it happens.

Phone: 951-9866

◆ Support Groups and Small Groups

Support groups are being offered through the Office of Student Counseling. (Groups run by the McCosh Health Center are also open to PTS students.) These support groups consist of separate groups offering support for individuals who live with a chronic illness; for women who want more control over eating habits; and for men and women focusing on self-integration and listening for God (rather than being driven by needs to please, to be needed, to be perfect, etc., which create a false self).

Following the retreat for couples on October 20, small groups will be forming for sharing and learning about marriage. Attendance at the retreat is not a prerequisite.

For more information or to register for a group, call the Chapel Office.

◆ The Tübingen Exchange Fellowship

Through an arrangement with the University of Tübingen, a fellowship has been established through which a year of study at that institution is provided following completion of the Master of Divinity program. Academic excellence and proficiency in German are the two primary qualifications for the award. Applicants must submit a Seminary transcript and a letter of recommendation from a faculty member. Senior M.Div. candidates are eligible to apply for this fellowship by writing to the PTS dean of academic affairs by November 1, 2001. For additional information, please visit Tübingen's web site at www.uni-tuebingen.de/intrel/exchange.html or stop by the Academic Affairs Office, room 126 in the Administration Building.

◆ High School Students and the Computer Lab

Parents who want their high school-age children to have access to the Seminary's computer labs will need to fill out an application and have a photo I.D. card made of their children. In accordance with the Seminary's Computer Lab policy, only high school-age children of the Seminary community are permitted use of the computers in the labs. Children will need to have the I.D. card with them when they use the labs.

Security staff will be set up to respond to requests and to take I.D. pictures on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, October 22, 23, and 25, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. in Templeton Hall, room 106. Parents must accompany their children to fill out and sign the application forms.

◆ Submit to the Testament

We want to hear and see what you've got rumbling in your soul. The Testament is the student body's outlet for creative expression. It is a publication of poems, prose, essays, drawings, and photographs—basically anything that could come out of your brilliant mind that we can squeeze into a periodical. You don't have to use footnotes and it won't get you to heaven. You won't even get any credit from Judy Lang. This issue's theme is "perception." The deadline for submissions is November 22, 2001. Please contact Ebony Burris or Judson Odell with your submissions or questions.

"Health Ministry: Its Time Has Come"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.

The focus of this seminar, led by PTS professor of practical theology Abigail Rian Evans, is on the church's responsibility and resources for responding to healthcare needs by recovering its historical healing ministry in new ways. Three reasons suggest this is the fullness of time for health ministries: (1) the failure of our healthcare system; (2) the breakdown of the old separations of science/religion, body/mind/spirit, and church/state; and (3) the emergence of new approaches to the church's historical healing ministry. Holistic health ministry in the church/faith-based community includes four areas: liturgical/devotional, education, support/advocacy, and direct healthcare services. Issues involved in faith-based initiatives, as well as information on effective health ministry programs around the country, will be presented. PTS students, staff and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Time Management Seminar

Stuart 6 3:30–8:30 p.m.
(Dinner break 5:30–6:30 p.m.)

Mike Bechtle, of the nationally recognized Franklin Covey Organization, will present a seminar on time management. The seminar, sponsored by the Thriving in Ministry Series and the Wholistic Health Initiative, is open to all Princeton Theological Seminary students and is free of charge. "My goal is to help people learn to find balance in all areas of their lives—and to give them hope that it can really happen," says Bechtle. Participants will learn more about how to take control of their time and life, decide what matters most and build their life around it, make the best choices with their time, decide what to do when time is limited, become effective instead of just efficient, keep urgent things from devouring priorities, survive seminary while keeping family intact, and stay in love with ministry forever.

This Week's ❖ Events

◆ Monday, October 29

Continuing Education Event: "Preaching from Paul's Letter to the Galatians"

Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

This event, led by Michael G. Hegeman, Ph.D. candidate in homiletics and New Testament studies at PTS, will focus on the theological, pastoral, and community-forming tasks of Paul in the Letter to the Galatians as paradigmatic for preaching today. Theological themes such as the nature of revelation, baptismal identity, the truth of the gospel, and life in the new creation will be explored according to their implications for the life and practices of the church. Central to this is the task of communicating through proclamation of God's "apocalyptic" act of redemption in Jesus Christ and how this "apocalypse" continues to make claim upon communities of believers. This event will explore also the "story" of this apocalypse and how it undergirds both Paul's proclamation and our own. PTS students, staff, and faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcement

The Dupree Center for Children has openings on its Child Care Advisory Committee. The meetings are held the second Thursday of each month from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

The Advisory Committee's purpose is to help develop sound fiscal policy, act as a liaison between the community and the center, ensure that the mission and philosophy of the center are being carried out, and ensure that the quality and integrity of the program are being maintained. The committee will also review and determine short- and long-term needs of the center for the community. The main focus is to use the expertise of each member to advise on the different areas related to the center.

Openings are:

◆ Anthrax Information

The Seminary's Emergency Management Team met last week to review information regarding the recent biological threats and the general anthrax scare that the nation has been experiencing. An email was sent to the Seminary community earlier this week, and the PTS web site has been updated to include basic information on procedures to follow and official sources of information about anthrax. Printed copies of official information sheets are available at the mailroom in the Administration Building, Speer Library, on a table in the foyer of Mackay, and at the CN Center.

At this time, it is important to remember to remain calm and to get good objective information on how to deal with the anthrax scare.

General ❖ Notices

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcement

The Dupree Center for Children has openings on its Child Care Advisory Committee. The meetings are held the second Thursday of each month from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

The Advisory Committee's purpose is to help develop sound fiscal policy, act as a liaison between the community and the center, ensure that the mission and philosophy of the center are being carried out, and ensure that the quality and integrity of the program are being maintained. The committee will also review and determine short- and long-term needs of the center for the community. The main focus is to use the expertise of each member to advise on the different areas related to the center.

Openings are:

◆ Anthrax Information

The Seminary's Emergency Management Team met last week to review information regarding the recent biological threats and the general anthrax scare that the nation has been experiencing. An email was sent to the Seminary community earlier this week, and the PTS web site has been updated to include basic information on procedures to follow and official sources of information about anthrax. Printed copies of official information sheets are available at the mailroom in the Administration Building, in Speer Library, on a table in the foyer of Mackay, and at the CN Center.

At this time, it is important to remember to remain calm and to get good objective information on how to deal with the anthrax scare.

Continuing Education Event: "Discovering the Word Within"
Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

In the same way a powerful sermon reveals new understandings of God's intention for us, poetry uncovers new life at the heart of faithful living. Exploring language as a renewable resource that can be "rekindled" in imaginative, Spirit-ed ways, participants will engage in a series of lively writing exercises—led by Anne Babson Carter, founding member of the Guilford Poets—designed to spark their awareness of "poetic" language. By focusing on various devices open to all practitioners of the writing process, language's theopoetics will take on a more spirited role in the art of textual writing. Clergy and laypeople with an interest in creative exploration—in sermon writing or any kind of self-expressive writing—will find ample time and opportunity to explore the hidden invitations in language for living faith. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

"Ministering to Those with Behavioral Addictions: Spotlight on Internet Misuse and Gambling"

Main Lounge 5:30–7:00 p.m.

Congregations include countless individuals who struggle with addictions and whose families are being damaged little by little through the corrosive effects of compulsive behaviors. How can you help a family understand what an addiction is and how to address it? How can you guide and support the individual who confides in you that he/she is frequenting pornography sites or has developed an Internet affair? How can you help a sports gambler or someone who is trying to pay bills through trips to the casinos? Behavioral addictions are a hidden but huge problem among the clergy. You may need to help yourself or a colleague with this down the road. Bring your dinner to the Main Lounge where PTS professor Abigail Rian Evans will lecture and lead a discussion on these increasingly important areas of ministry. The Wholistic Health Initiative sponsors this event.

◆ Monday, November 26

"Ministering to Those with Behavioral Addictions: Spotlight on Internet Misuse and Gambling"

Main Lounge 5:30–7:00 p.m.

Congregations include countless individuals who struggle with addictions and whose families are being damaged little by little through the corrosive effects of compulsive behaviors. How can you help a family understand what an addiction is and how to address it? How can you guide and support the individual who confides in you that he/she is frequenting pornography sites or has developed an Internet affair? How can you help a sports gambler or someone who is trying to pay bills through trips to the casinos? Behavioral addictions are a hidden but huge problem among the clergy. You may need to help yourself or a colleague with this down the road. Bring your dinner to the Main Lounge where PTS professor Abigail Rian Evans will lecture and lead a discussion on these increasingly important areas of ministry. The Wholistic Health Initiative sponsors this event.

◆ Holy Cross Retreat
All PTS students are invited to a full two-day retreat at Holy Cross Monastery, a Benedictine monastery of the Episcopal Church in the Hudson Valley, New York. A group of 30 PTS students and faculty will spend January 22–24 at a beautiful 19th-century monastery overlooking the Hudson River. This will be a guided retreat, led by the prior and novice master and PTS faculty. They will lead us in entering into the balanced rhythm of Benedictine life based around the chanting of the Psalter, rest, work, silence, and healthy eating. Two meetings will prepare retreatants for this wonderful experience. The first meeting will be on December 6 in Scheide Hall from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and will provide information (including projected expenses). The second meeting will be January 15 in the Main Lounge from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. At the conclusion of the second meeting, the membership for the group will be finalized. Upcoming ❖ Events

◆ Monday, December 10
Longest Night Service
Miller Chapel 4:30 p.m.
Longest Night is a quiet and reflective worship service designed for anyone who is finding Advent and the upcoming Christmas season difficult or sad. Perhaps you have recently lost a loved one, are lonely, suffering from illness, financial stress, or the pain of a broken relationship. There will be gentle music, Scripture, prayers, and a brief reflection, as well as an opportunity to light a candle in memory of a loved one, or as a sign of hope. Come alone or bring a friend. This service is open to everyone in the PTS community. Please contact Kristin Saldine if you are interested in planning and/or participating

Shirley Breuel: "Making Paths"
Erdman Hall Gallery
This exhibit features works by Princeton-area painter Shirley Breuel, who comes from a career in professional design and illustration, most notably with Walt Disney Design and Development. An award-winning graduate of Texas Technological University, she says she is interested in representing the paths of human life, "some replete with roots, fear, stumbling stones, steep climbs; others alive with peace, compassion, and comfort." Gallery Hours are:

Monday–Friday 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Saturday 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday 2:30–8:00 p.m.

A gallery reception for Shirley Breuel will take place on Wednesday, January 16, from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Please call the Center of Continuing Education for more information.

General ❖ Notices

◆ Wanted: Participants for Research Project
Professors, administrators, counselors, pastors, and students are needed to participate in a research project regarding women in seminary. This requires a one-time commitment varying in length from 5-to 45 minutes. Only student participants will be paid. For more information, contact Reformed Theological Seminary (RTS) alumna Lori Robertson, M.A.B.S. professor of religion and humanities at Valencia Community College in Orlando, Florida—email: lori@religioustraditions.org or telephone: 407-230 8616. Please respond no later than December 31, 2001.

◆ Holy Cross Retreat
All PTS students are invited to a full two-day retreat at Holy Cross Monastery, a Benedictine monastery of the Episcopal Church in the Hudson Valley, New York. A group of 30 PTS students and faculty will spend Tuesday, January 22 to Thursday, January 24 at a beautiful 19th-century monastery overlooking the Hudson River. This will be a guided retreat, led by the prior and novice master and PTS faculty. They will lead us in entering into the balanced rhythm of Benedictine life based around the chanting of the Psalter, rest, work, silence, and healthy eating. Two meetings will prepare retreatants for this wonderful experience. The first meeting will be held on Thursday, December 6 in Scheide Hall from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and will provide information, including projected expenses. The second meeting will take place on Wednesday, January 15. At the conclusion of the second meeting, the membership for the group will be finalized. Brochures are available in Templeton 210 or Hodge 105.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

Holiday Lights—Dormitory and Apartment Residents

Lights and decorations may not be hung on the exterior of any building. Lights and decorations may be hung inside of rooms, hallways, and lounges, but not in bathrooms. All lights and extension cords must be U.L. listed and in good working condition, must not block or interfere with egress, not be a trip hazard, and not interfere with daily cleaning. Safety is the main concern. PTS reserves the right to take down any lights or decorations that are unsafe or that block egress or daily cleaning. Thank you for your cooperation.

Thank You for Recycling!

Thank you to all dormitory residents for recycling properly. Your effort in recycling trash plays an important part in maintaining a healthy environment.

Access to Dormitories during Christmas Break

For your security and safety, the exterior doors of all dormitories will be locked from Saturday, December 22 through Sunday, January 6. Please use your exterior door key to gain access to your dormitory during this period. And please be sure to inform the Housing Office if you will be staying during the Christmas break.

Blood Drive Thank You!

Our heartfelt thanks to everyone who donated blood at PTS's fall blood drive on Wednesday, November 14. A total of 46 pints were collected. The Red Cross continues to need your support. Please plan to attend the next blood drive, scheduled for April 2002.

An award-winning graduate of Texas Technological University, she says she is interested in representing the paths of human life, "some replete with roots, fear, stumbling stones, steep climbs; others alive with peace, compassion, and comfort." Gallery hours are:

Monday–Friday 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Saturday 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m.
Sunday 2:30–8:00 p.m.

A gallery reception for Shirley Breuel will take place on Wednesday, January 16 from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Please call the Center of Continuing Education for more information.

Christmas Choir Concert—"A Service of Lessons and Carols"
Miller Chapel 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.
The Cantate Domino and Jubilate Deo Choirs, under the direction of C.F. Seabrook Director of Music Martin Tel, will present "A Service of Lessons and Carols" for the Christmas season. This service, modeled on the annual Christmas Eve service at Kings College, Cambridge, in England, includes nine Scripture readings for the Christmas season and appropriate carols. Two identical candlelight services will be held in Miller Chapel. Caroling will be conducted on the quad in front of the chapel following each service. ChiYi Chen, choral assistant, will accompany the choirs.

◆ Housing and Auxiliary Services Announcements

Holiday Lights—Dormitory and Apartment Residents

Lights and decorations may not be hung on the exterior of any building. Lights and decorations may be hung inside of rooms, hallways, and lounges, but not in bathrooms. All lights and extension cords must be U.L. listed and in good working condition, must not block or interfere with egress, not be a trip hazard, and not interfere with daily cleaning. Safety is the main concern. PTS reserves the right to take down any lights or decorations that are unsafe or that block egress or daily cleaning. Thank you for your cooperation.

Access to Dormitories during Christmas Break

For your security and safety, the exterior doors of all dormitories will be locked from Saturday, December 22 through Sunday, January 6. Please use your exterior door key to gain access to your dormitory during this period. And please be sure to inform the Housing Office if you will be staying during the Christmas break.

◆ Thursday, January 17–Friday, January 18
Continuing Education Event: "Lent, Easter, Theology, and Art"
Erdman Hall
10:45 a.m. (Thursday) to 3:00 p.m. (Friday)
This event will explore the meaning of Lent and Easter through the visual arts. Participants will study why and how visual arts have been used in churches. They will also have the opportunity for hands-on creation of their own understandings of Lent and Easter by using clay or by drawing. Charles R. McCollough, a visiting artist-in-residence at Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, Massachusetts, will lead this event. McCollough is the author of Faith Made Visible (United Church Press, 2000), and is a sculptor/theologian with a heart for social concerns. PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

◆ Monday, January 28
Continuing Education Event: "Preaching the Lent/Easter Cycle: Preparing Sermons That Include Children"
Erdman Hall 9:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m.
This workshop will focus on homiletical strategies that effectively include children as well as adults in the preaching event. Participants will examine lectionary texts and/or traditional Lent/Easter themes and then practice moving back and forth between abstract and concrete expressions of those themes. Preachers will examine their own "signature style" and identify ways to achieve a greater balance between exposition and story, between intellect and affect, between the conceptual and the sensory, between the didactic and the evocative. Participants are asked to bring a Lenten sermon "from the barrel" (Year A, for lectionary-based preachers, if available) and a few children's books that address Lent and Easter themes. (The books may or may not be overtly religious in content.) Ruth L. Boling, an ordained minister of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), will lead this workshop. She is the author of Come Worship with Me: A Journey through the Church Year (Geneva Press, 2001), and coauthor of A Children's Guide to Worship (Geneva Press, 1997). PTS students, staff, faculty, and their spouses are invited to attend Continuing Education events free of charge, but advanced registration is required.
